CONTEXTE

Voronoi - triangles connected in open field, as a square

These works come directly out of digital light art. The arc runs from painting through light art and back into material form with the digital prints. I would point here to the many different exhibitions of light art.

These graphics are vector based and can be printed at a wide range of sizes. A digital art print can be ordered to specification in the online shop and is delivered automatically. Fine-art printing on Hahnemühle paper and on aluminium dibond is available. The works are printed through the service provider Whitewall. For other formats, special requests and materials, please get in touch directly under COLLABORATION.
